

BC Water & Waste Association Membership Information

Thank you for your interest in the BC Water and Waste Association!

Below you'll find information about who we are, what we do and why becoming a BCWWA member may be beneficial to you or your staff.

WHO WE ARE...

The BC Water & Waste Association (BCWWA) is a not-for-profit association representing more than 4,000 water professionals who are responsible for ensuring safe, sustainable, and secure water, sewer, and stormwater systems in BC and the Yukon.

WHAT WE DO...

We safeguard public health and the environment through the delivery of:

- Professional development and networking events
- Operator education
- Cross connection control certification
- Advocacy and public education about water issues

The BCWWA is committed to ensuring that:

- Water users, regulators and elected officials make informed decisions about water services.
- The BC & Yukon region has a competent and sustainable water sector workforce.
- The BC & Yukon region has an influential and cohesive network of water practitioners.
- Leadership and innovation is fostered within the water community.

WHY BECOME A MEMBER?

As a BCWWA member, you (or your staff members) gain access to a variety of member-only benefits, including:

- Discounted rates for BCWWA professional development events and educational courses
 - Your membership pays for itself by registering for just ONE event or educational course per year!
- Regular updates on industry news and best practices through a complimentary subscription to our quarterly Watermark magazine and our monthly Waterline e-newsletter
- The opportunity to influence change as part of a strong and cohesive voice for the water sector by providing input on responses to changes in guidelines and other regulations
- Access to networking opportunities through participating in committees, communities of practice, and other volunteer groups that focus on a variety of water issues.
